

MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2011 question paper for the guidance of teachers

8004 GENERAL PAPER

8004/11

Paper 1, maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- Cambridge will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2011 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Section 1

1 How far has your country recovered from the global financial crises?

Key words: 'How far ...?' and 'your country' and 'recovered' and 'global financial crises'.

- measures taken by the government to improve the situation
- the extent of the economy recovery
- policies/measures to prevent a similar financial crisis in the future
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

2 Explaining the past should be left to historians.' Discuss.

Key words: 'Discuss' and explaining the past' and 'left to historians'.

- historians have learnt to analyse and interpret and sift fact from fiction
- their explanations should arise from verification and establishing authenticity
- historians possess the skills to place events in the correct context
- they point out the lessons that can be learnt from historical precedents
- however, some may purposely construe events to suit political/ideological objectives
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

3 To what extent would you consider politicians to be dishonest?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'politicians' and 'dishonest'.

- expect a variety of answers depending on the candidates' location
- a good answer may well make comparisons with practices in other countries
- examples may be offered of personal dishonesty, e.g. fiddling expenses
- other examples may demonstrate examples where wholesale corruption is stifling progress and growth
- the misuse of development aid may also be shown
- some may refer to a succession of broken promises
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

4 How far do you believe immigration to be a blessing to your country?

Key words: 'How far ...?' and 'immigration' and 'blessing' and 'your'.

- the need of the relevant host country for a larger workforce
- a skills shortage may be slowing progress
- immigrants may do the menial tasks not popular with the local population
- the contribution of the immigrants to GDP?
- do immigrants take jobs from the local population?
- do immigrants cause crime?
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

Section 2

6 'Parents should not be allowed to select their child's gender.' To what extent would you agree?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'parents' and 'not allowed' and 'select' and 'gender'.

- in some parts this has already led to gender imbalance, e.g. India
- in worst cases, embryos of the 'wrong' sex have been aborted
- moral/ethical/religion questions/tampering with nature/playing God
- but can it be 'acceptable' for medical/quality of life reasons, e.g. serious inherited conditions in male/female lines
- not universally available because of the high cost of 'engineering' babies
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

7 Assess the suitability of solar power for generating sufficient electricity.

Key words: 'Assess' and 'suitability' and 'solar power' and 'sufficient'.

- solar power can be of use domestically and in rural areas
- solar panels can ensure a constant supply of hot water in a house
- more recent systems can produce more electricity than a home needs and excess can be sold to the grid
- these systems are reliant on light rather than sun, however they are expensive
- it is a 'clean' source of power
- in most cases it would take a minimum of ten years to recoup the installation costs
- solar driven vehicles are still at the experimental stage and not ready for practical use
- solar power currently makes a useful but limited contribution to power generation
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

8 To what extent should young people worry about climate change and global warming?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'young' and 'worry' and 'climate change and global warming'.

- scientific/historical records show that our planet has constantly gone through major climate change, e.g. Ice Age; warmer periods (e.g. the Romans grew grapes in Scotland)
- global warming is a very contentious, unproven issue although doubters now seem to have the stronger arguments
- humans can not control climate change but they may have some influence on it
- in the past humans have learnt to adapt to climate change and that presumably will be the case for future generations
- young people may worry and be anxious about their future on the planet but the prophecies of imminent doom would appear to be wildly exaggerated
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

Section 3

11 Should the state subsidise such arts as opera, ballet and theatre?

Key words: 'Should ...?' and 'state subsidise' and 'such arts as ...'.

- such arts are subsidised to some extent in many countries
- they are considered as an essential part of a country's cultural offering
- whether it is right to subsidise may depend on the country's priorities/financial situation
- developing countries might consider it more useful to spend their budget on, say, health and education
- the arts would have more chance of attracting subsidies in richer, developed countries
- is it appropriate to subsidise an intellectual minority?
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

12 'The way we dress reveals who we are.' How true is this?

Key words: 'How true ...?' and 'we dress' and 'reveals' and 'who we are'.

- 'traditional' dress is essential in certain countries, e.g. as a bulwark against Westernisation) – as an identifier
- traditional dress may illustrate religious identity, e.g. burka/veils
- the way young people dress can indicate their belonging to a group/gang/the latest fashion movement
- dress may indicate belonging to a certain profession, e.g. military, legal, commercial
- dress may indicate wealth (haute couture and designer labels) or love of fashion
- may have to do with character (brash, outgoing, colourful) or (sombre, shy, and serious)
- dress may be a way to conceal uncertainty, inferiority complex imitating 'celebrities'
- associated sayings which have to do with clothes, e.g. 'fine feathers make fine birds'/'clothes maketh man'/'dressed to kill'/'dressed up like a dog's dinner'/'mutton dressed as lamb'
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

13 Account for the ever increasing popularity of celebrity culture.

Key words: 'Account for ...' and 'ever increasing' and 'celebrity culture'.

- definition of celebrity?
- 'celebrity' is frequently mentioned, particularly in the media
- some youngsters see 'celebrity' as a profession and aspire to become one
- many television programmes have added 'celebrity' to the programme name
- the number of 'celebrity' magazines has increased enormously
- what is the reason for this celebrity focused 'culture'? Are they so important to society as to merit such attention
- a natural follow on from 'stars' of stage/screen/radio?
- the lure of wealth/luxurious, exciting lifestyle/perceived beauty/hero worship?
- relief from a mundane/boring job/life?
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

14 To what extent is learning a foreign language important in your society?

Key words: 'To what extent ...?' and 'learning' and 'foreign' and 'your'.

- the advantages of learning a foreign language generally and in the relevant society
- possibly an advantage when applying for a job
- knowledge of other languages is advantageous in a globalised world
- the significance of English as a world language
- helping to be more knowledgeable and appreciative of one's native language
- enabling incoming tourism and facilitating trade
- offering a clearer insight/gateway into a foreign culture
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.

15 'Historic buildings are interesting but useless relics of the past.' Discuss.

Key words: 'Discuss' and 'historic buildings' and 'interesting but useless'.

- if such buildings are interesting, what do they teach us? What use is this knowledge?
- reasons for conservation orders/listed buildings – the historical/cultural role
- surely not useless relics if we can learn from them and if they provide an insight into local/national history?
- any view acceptable if well argued
- main points will need to be adequately illustrated.
