Paper 2 Scriptures, Ethics and Hindu Life

October/November 2017

MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 60

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2017 series for most Cambridge IGCSE[®], Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

Marking instructionsGeneral principles

- You are urged to use the full range of marks, bearing in mind that it is not necessary for a response to be 'perfect' to get the top marks.
- If the response is as good as might reasonably be expected from an O Level student who has studied this syllabus then it should be rewarded appropriately.
- Adopt a positive approach: award marks based on what the candidate can do, rather than deducting marks for errors. Accept any recognisable spelling of names and terms.

Part (a) and (b) Questions (Assessment Objective 1)

Depending on the format of the question marks are to be awarded:

Either: 1 mark for each valid response.

Or: for a combination of valid points, examples and development.

Part (c) and (d) Questions (Assessment Objectives 1 and 2)

Examiners should adopt a 'best-fit' approach. The Examiner must select the set of descriptors provided in the Mark Grid that most closely describes the quality of the work being marked. As the Examiner works upwards through the Marking Bands, s/he will eventually arrive at a set of descriptors that fits the candidate's performance. When s/he reaches this point, the Examiner should always then check the descriptors in the band above to confirm whether or not there is just enough evidence to award a mark in the higher band.

To select the most appropriate mark within each set of descriptors, Examiners should use the following guidance:

- If most of the descriptors fit the response, the Examiner will award the top mark in the band.
- If there is just enough evidence (and the Examiner had perhaps been considering the band below), then the lowest mark in the band will be awarded.

Candidates might include some of the following ideas: People often do not want to act in a way which is prescribed as their ‘duty’. People can find it difficult not to anticipate the consequences of their actions, thinking about possible praise or blame.	5

Question	Answer	Marks
1(d)	‘Hindus do not need to study scriptures in order to achieve liberation.’ To what extent do you agree? Refer to the specified texts you have studied in your answer. AO2 Candidates should present reasoned arguments to discuss different viewpoints, e.g. Agree: If study of scriptures was necessary for liberation, only the literate and learned would have a chance. In some circumstances, the priestly class actually denied access to scriptures to those not ‘twice-born’. If study was necessary, many of lower status would be excluded. Evidence from Tulsidas and the Bhagavad Gita can be shown to agree that the way of bhakti is open to all, including those unable to read scriptures. Disagree: If the scriptures are neglected, the vital teachings of the sages will be lost. It is the dharma of educated people to study the scriptures for understanding, and to explain them to others. Unless children are trained to read and study the scriptures, they will be deprived of religious understanding.	10

2(d)	To what extent do you agree? Refer to the specified texts you have studied in your answer. AO2 Candidates should present reasoned arguments to discuss different viewpoints, e.g. Agree: Tulsidas lists and explains the 'forms of bhakti', which lead humble characters in his stories, such as the Sabrī and the ferryman, to gain Rama's blessing and to attain instant liberation. Disagree: Despite the strength of the poet's belief in the power of bhakti, Tulsidas does not appear to claim that bhakti is the only path to liberation. In particular he emphasises the duty of all other classes to respect learned Brahmins and ascetics.	10

Evidence for this can be found e.g. in the Upanishads. Disagree: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In practice the system can be used to confine people’s aspirations and progress • Class privileges can be claimed as if ‘birth’ was the main issue • The system allows for a ‘servant’ class, which, it could be argued, is not compatible with democracy. 	10
