Example Candidate Responses

Cambridge International AS & A Level

Cambridge International AS and A Level English Language

9093

Paper 4

Cambridge Advanced

In order to help us develop the highest quality Curriculum Support resources, we are undertaking a continuous programme of review; not only to measure the success of our resources but also to highlight areas for improvement and to identify new development needs.

We invite you to complete our survey by visiting the website below. Your comments on the quality and relevance of Cambridge Curriculum Support resources are very important to us.

https://surveymonkey.co.uk/r/GL6ZNJB

Do you want to become a Cambridge consultant and help us develop support materials?

Please follow the link below to register your interest.

http://cie.org.uk/cambridge-for/teachers/teacherconsultants/

Cambridge International Examinations retains the copyright on all its publications. Registered Centres are permitted to copy material from this booklet for their own internal use. However, we cannot give permission to Centres to photocopy any material that is acknowledged to a third party even for internal use within a Centre.

Contents

Introduction	4
Assessment at a glance	6
Question 1	8
Question 2	21
Question 3	34

Introduction

The main aim of this booklet is to exemplify standards for those teaching Cambridge International AS and A Level English (9093), and to show how different levels of candidates' performance (high, middle and low) relate to the subject's curriculum and assessment objectives.

In this booklet candidate responses have been chosen to exemplify a range of answers. Each response is accompanied by a brief commentary explaining the strengths and weaknesses of the answers.

Each response is annotated with clear explanation of where and why marks were awarded or omitted. This, in turn, followed by examiner comments on how the answer could have been improved. In this way it is possible for you to understand what candidates have done to gain their marks and what they will have to do to improve their answers. At the end there is a list of common mistakes candidates made in their answers for each question.

This document provides illustrative examples of candidate work. These help teachers to assess the standard required to achieve marks, beyond the guidance of the mark scheme. Some question types where the answer is clear from the mark scheme, such as short answers and multiple choice, have therefore been omitted.

The questions, mark schemes and pre-release material used here are available to download from Teacher Support.

Past papers, Examiner Reports and other teacher support materials are available on Teacher Support at https://teachers.cie.org.uk

How to use this booklet

Example candidate response – high	Examiner comments
Ms Gillard's speech is charactensed by strong, enotive biguage and and accusatory, outraged bre. It is written in an thought-provoking manner, and exposes the flows of the Leader of the opposition 1 Answers by real candidates in exam conditions. These show you the types of answers for each level. Discuss and analyse the answers with your learners in the classroom to improve their skills. She refers to Abbott repeatedly as "this man". Such a phrase resonates as slight bathing, contempt and cliguists. By choosing not to give him a name as title here, she reduces his influence and important	 Immediate and purposeful assessment of the tone of the passage. Examiner comments are alongside the answers, linked to specific part of the answer. These explain where and why marks were awarded. This helps you to interpret the standard of Cambridge exams and helps your learners to refine exam technique.

How the candidate could have improved the answer

There was some engagement with the passage focus was very variable and rhetorical devices

The response would have benefited from a mo disconnected and this prevented any clear exa

This explains how the candidate could have improved the answer. This helps you to interpret the standard of Cambridge exams and helps your learners to refine exam technique.

Common mistakes candidates made in this question

The examiner expected candidates to:

- identify language examples and features the passage
- comment on specific effects of the chose effect of the passage as a whole

Lists the common mistakes candidates made in answering each question. This will help your learners to avoid these mistakes at the exam and give them the best chance of achieving a high mark.

Assessment at a glance

For Cambridge International AS and A Level English Language, candidates:

- take Papers 1 and 2 only (for the Cambridge International AS qualification) or
- follow a staged assessment route by taking Papers 1 and 2 (for the Cambridge International AS qualification) in one series, then Papers 3 and 4 (for the Cambridge International A Level qualification) in a later series or

• take Papers 1, 2, 3 and 4 only in the same examination series, leading to the full Cambridge International A Level.

Cambridge International AS Level candidates take:

Paper 1 Passages	Duration	Weighting
The paper contains three questions.	2 hours 15 minutes	50%
Candidates answer two questions: Question 1, and either Question 2 or Question 3.
Questions carry equal marks.
Externally assessed. 50 marks

and

Paper 2 Writing	Duration	Weighting
Two sections: Section A and Section B.	2 hours	50%
Candidates answer two questions: one from Section A and one from Section B.
Questions carry equal marks.
Externally assessed. 50 marks

Cambridge International A Level candidates take:

Paper 1 Passages	Duration	Weighting
The paper contains three questions.	2 hours 15 minutes	25%
Candidates answer two questions: Question 1, and either Question 2 or Question 3.
Questions carry equal marks.
Externally assessed. 50 marks

and

Paper 2 Writing	Duration	Weighting
Two sections: Section A and Section B.	2 hours	25%
Candidates answer two questions: one from Section A and one from Section B.
Questions carry equal marks.
Externally assessed. 50 marks

and

Paper 3 Text Analysis	Duration	Weighting
The paper contains two questions	2 hours 15 minutes	25%
Candidates must answer both questions.
Questions carry equal marks.
Externally assessed. 50 marks

and

Paper 4 Language Topics	Duration	Weighting
The paper contains three questions, each on a separate topic area.	2 hours 15 minutes	25%
Candidates answer two questions.
Questions carry equal marks
Externally assessed. 50 marks

Teachers are reminded that the latest syllabus is available on our public website at www.cie.org.uk and Teacher Support at https://teachers.cie.org.uk

Example candidate response – high Examiner comments The levision scription Int rview 2 tas Usain Dumpi mu sid ni 1 The introduction demonstrates the candidate's clear understanding of the context. Saria dial evision 3 2 The candidate develops an insight into the specific audience (using appropriate evidence from the transcript. 1h In pic O SQI 055 3 A counter-argument is set up 3 and developed, using some linguistic terminology. Hon en Mo hor 7

Example candidate response – high, continued Examiner comments Know 12 min he is n court provi n 4 The concept of language to 4 include or exclude is explored using appropriate evidence. M Villar רכ 00 FZ 1 iD 5 Language and purpose is further examined. The candidate continues to select appropriately from the transcript. Morga 5 6 The candidate now begins to n examine language and power and the status of the interlocutors within A the context. PI n Bolt 2 AIN

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
answers. This is explicitly portrajed when Morgan asker asks 'so how does that make you feel?' and bolt has the short reply of 'il.) i pel 6000 (1) i feel good. Thus, Morgan has to proy prompt more information from Bolt with the follow up gression, 'how nany people do you meet on a daily basis if at go (.) you are my hero'. This aveshow is more specific and Morgan, Morgan's for Bolt be answer Han Morgan's first vague question. Morgan, Morgan's pirst vague question. Morgan, Morganet the Interview, hes little to wow no non-free fluency features as he has prepared his questions for Bolt, and possibly his personal anecdote about Borzov, beforehand. However, Bolt has a	7 The candidate comments fully on the structures of questions posed by the interviewer.
Mat can be attributed to spontaveaus speech & These include false starts, 'i (.) i feel (2000), 'it's (.) it's ALL' and pauses, '(.)' and fillers, 'err' These contribute to the idea that Bolt's speech wasn't prepared as it presents a clear contrast between himself and Morgan,	8 The response is comparative in its exploration of the interlocutors' utterances and their linguistic features.
dominance in the conversation. 9 However, with Morgan's ancedate	In developing the response further, the candidate now applies the analysis to the previous exploration of language and power.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
about Borzou and his own opinion of the hundred metric dash as beingthe 'CARLEA TEST test of a man' he volates, seemingly unintentionally, Crrice's maxim of Refevance as it' doesn't serve to add to the conver- eation. This is conveyed through Bolt's response, 'it's true'. The brevity of Bolt's utterance portrays the sentiment that Morgan's anecdofe had no relevant bearing However, Morgan unkes use of . Politaness principles from both Leech and Lakoff. Morgan uses Liceh's	The candidate applies the theory of Grice with insightful comments and uses appropriate evidence from the transcript.
naxim of Approbation when he anximises praise of Usain Bolt, "it's because YOURE my hero" and "golden bots min 1". When This sorves Is platter Bolt and put him at ease with the the conversation Morgan	1 The candidate continues to also wakes use of Lakoff's jdea that, to be polite, you supply the offer participant with having many options, 'is it bethe vinning? (.) is it being the champ? (.) is it	apply theory, demonstrating knowledge and insight regarding Morgan's ingratiating way of communicating with Bolt.
Me noney (.) is it faute (.) is it Me woment (.) is it All of it do you Minkt'. This strate getterous effective as Bolt confirmed that its All those factors', Therefore, by	The candidate identifies Morgan's questioning technique as strategic, effectively using a further theory on politeness.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
providing Bolt with many options, Morgan makes Polt's part in the conversation ensiter by essentially summing summing energiting up for him. Bolt's providing for the provide on he 'Ismiles' I' serve provide on Nisual object for the materice ensit is televised. The fore of the interview is informat with the ose of the slang words, 'dolt', 'cool' nd 'whood', and the base of prosodic feature such on the barrensed volume, 'CHAMPION', 'ESPECIALL' and spressed words, 'feel', 'great' server to ereate an elevated on textition andience, liston 18	The conclusion includes comments on linguistic features and returns to the original points made about the effectiveness of the conversation set into the context of a television interview. Total mark awarded = 21 out of 25

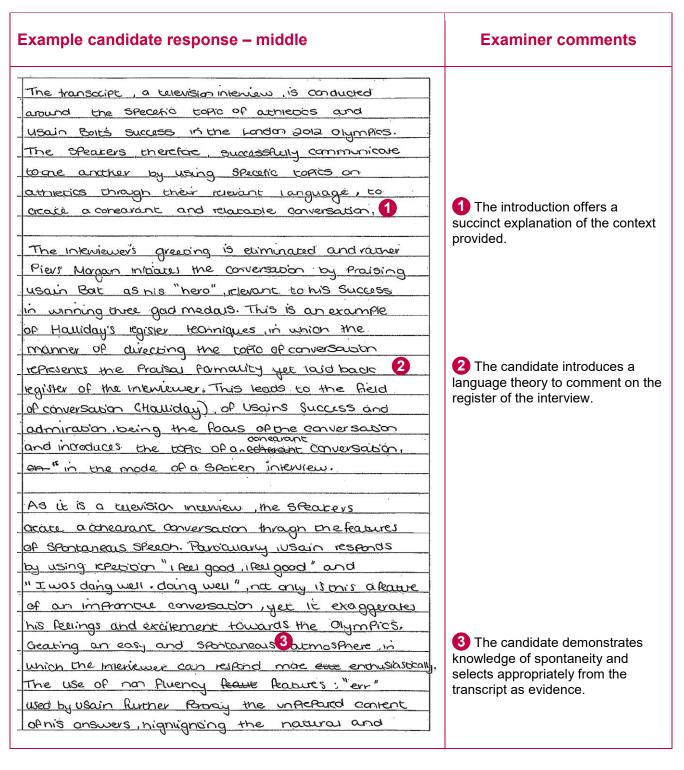

At times, the candidate lost articulacy and the written language became rather informal. To improve the answer the candidate could have maintained an academic tone throughout.

There were sections of the response which could have been improved by using more precise linguistic terminology to describe the language features being explored, especially in the section of the essay concerning questioning techniques.

The candidate's focus was generally on how the audience might be affected. While this is commendable, the candidate could have included more comments specifically on the context of Bolt's recent achievements.

Where there was discussion on language and status, this could have been made more specific with an application of language theory on this subject.

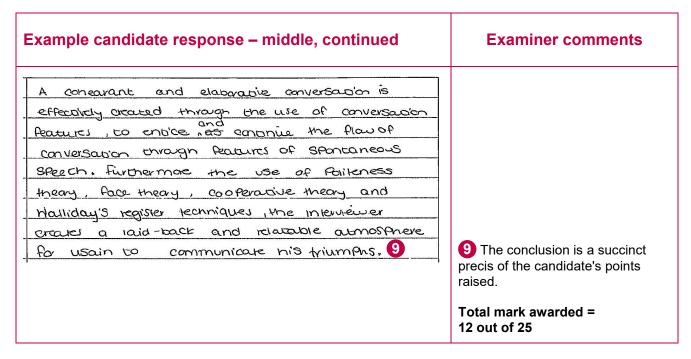

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
honest remarks that have not been edited and Re-Planned to Perfection. The intervener's questions are asked onragen intoination; "goes through the golden bolts mind", it is a subtle, yet effective in which way, the interviewer progressess the conversation Pramating a response from Usain. The Questions, Provoke lengthy responses from the respondent, enoting insteners and advocating his love of the sport, through his elaborative tractions. Questions of a spoken conversation. In his responses, theuse of an interviewed construction; "you, all you try to do", praves his than of the of incomplete construction; "the elympics iwent aut there" re-ariseds nis response from the general topic of the gradent, which effectively directs his attention to the available to a more direct and fersonal approach, which effectively directs his attention to the Rurpose of the inferviewers question and to not go off topic.	• The candidate attempts to explore the nature of Morgan's questioning technique.
This foauses the direction of the conversation and thables direct answers to the interview auestions. The direction and flaw of the conversation is further Prompted by Rise Magan's use of Aillers; "it's true", which gives Alers Magan the underst knowedge of his Arbair and Boit acknowledges the stance and direction the interview is going in and Subsequently reassures Alers Margan in his a Hendance by a	5 The candidate demonstrates understanding of the structure of the interview and applies some technical terminology to describe the effects conveyed by language and purpose.
dash is the gratest test ". 6	6 There is a brief comment on Goffman's theory which is appropriate, to an extent.

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
This makes the interviewers @ statements and facts about specen's field events relatable to Usain, and effective in the conversations effectiveness. Through using relevance (Grice's maxims) of the Olympics, further substemance ? is created factually, along with acating a concarent interview. Amouthe Another maxim of Grice is followed through the honest remarks made by Usain (Quality) retris adds " its just hard work for me". adding to the Quality of the transprift, Potraying the real effects to the listening and Viewing audience, creating agenuine interview. This enables a ditailed and fersanal conversation to commence as Personal information;" Fans are one of the biggest to me", "to clear mymind" give insight into usating Personal uike, and not just	The candidate demonstrates knowledge of Grice's maxims and successfully applies theory to argument with evidence from the transcript.
a Rublic Spetemene athlete. iald-bacc The & atmosphere of the interview enables Usain to elaborate into his Rersonal vite, opening up to Aers Magan. The use of Restitute Parteness 4 "youre my nero" and "isit being the champ" are evidence of Posibive Riteness Chaileness theory), which Praises the other Speaker through modulasional and commence and intertary remarks Thurther Principles (Lacoff) Provide an effect to make the reciever, Usain Rel good. This is evident in the remarks; "gaten boits"," to be a champion " and "to be a great champion" which boast usains confidence and Slight ego in Promping elaborative and cletailed leipanies, Praviding the conversation with a laid bock at Pravide amosfilere.	8 The candidate's brief comments on politeness theories demonstrate an understanding of the purpose of the interview and the effects of Morgan's flattery.

The candidate could have improved the answer by a fuller explanation of Goffman's theory. The brief discussion of this was only appropriate to an extent and could have been the subject of a more developed exploration.

Further theories on politeness were briefly mentioned. These were not all attributed to a theorist: the candidate could have improved the response by using specific names and by providing an explanation as to how and why a particular theory could be applied to the linguistic ingredients of the transcript.

The candidate stated that the interview was spontaneous for both interlocutors. The response could have been improved by closer reading, as Morgan's questions were prepared, and only Bolt's replies were spontaneous; this aspect of the interview affected the overall levels of formality which did not match. This was a fundamental element of the language used in the transcription which in the candidate's case was not recognised.

Example candidate response – low	Examiner comments
The feact is an interview, where the interviewer was interviewing Usain Bott, The teact is made up of dippenent languages. At the start of the interview, Piers Morgan introduces the effect to ther the interview. This is shown by the phrese, its because YOURE my here (1) so how	1 The candidate demonstrates some confusion.
dees Ind make you peel. This shows that fiers Margan has been a big Fan of Ulawin Bolt since way back the propers it look like he is his biggest fan. This is also shown by the raise of roice, and YOURF? This statement opens the conversation, but also affects the Has context. Usain Bolt automatically talks about his peelings when fans tell him has they peel about him. Piers Margan opects by enotions. As the interview goes by, the anteact changes to childhood memories. Piers Margan	2 The candidate selects appropriately from the transcript to demonstrate understanding of language and purpose.
drages to childhoid inemories. Piers Ulargan bring up how he was intrigued by Olympics. However, he stresses out how olympics can also test men, even though he was first mativated by a fussion wanan. Language is affected. 3 Atte As the interview proceeds, Usin Balt starks getting involved. Non - stundord language is shown from Usain Balt. He affects the language of the text by talking about has he prepares himself, seconds before he explodes. This can be chain by the phrase, "bry to NOT think about mything." Usain could be talking about	 3 The candidate offers assertion on the content of the interview with some misreading. 4 The candidate offers a brief comment on Bolt's use of language and continues by paraphrasing the transcript.

The interviewer goes on to cost the than linguistic.	Example candidate response – low, continued	Examiner comments
opeal in his career. Automatically, the context of the text is affect. Usain goes on to tak about the fars. He ven even gives estimatations of the people who	links about stressing issues; it. could hold you back from perpansing well, up to pull capabilities. He goes on to tall about taking deep breaths before he explodes. The interviewer, Piers Magan, goes onto on to appeat the language of the beat by talking about champions champions are people who're addived compling one great and beyard. Which bolt has, activated many gold metals on lundred metre races. This has labelled him as the pastest man an earth. There he becomes a champion. Bolt & talks about three the interview by talking about three having a great supporting team really having a great supporting team by the phrase, "for me." He gres on to engage people who helped him, for example," his can be shown by the phrase, " FSPFE OTALLY my orach. The capital letters dow really how Usain's asach supported him. No hav he was grateful G The interviewer gres or to cost the ling that really motivates Usain to do opeal in his career. Addomatically, the context of the that is an ease of the order of the team of the start is and the form gree on bout the interviewer grees or to cost the	6 The response is narrative rather

Example candidate response – low, continued	Examiner comments
come to support him. Usain gas on to explain what threes pars really do to make him advieve more. This is shown by cutte phroses." (.) the energy that they give me." Havener, both the people involved in the interview are good speakers of Finglish. Even though Usain was giving himself more time to think of what to answer, "f.) err." The "err" is shown twice on the text.	The candidate spots some features of the transcript and provides a generalised comment.
Also blain Balt was including maginery Sounds, Lile, I whood? For Piers Margan, it is clear fliat the English is really good. Which is expected because of the environment he lives in, also because of the type of his job. 8 herefore, to a greater extend the language used in the teast affect the contest. To a lesser extend the language did not affect the besch This is especially dhown when you'n agrees to what Piers says about hundred metre races. Usan just agrees with, "it brue, state- ment	 The candidate attempts to provide a basic sociological comment. Total mark awarded = 4 out of 25

The response opened with some confusion which may have been due to the candidate's loss of control of written English.

As the essay continued, it was clear that the candidate understood the context and was able to select evidence from the transcription. However, the response was largely narrative, paraphrasing chronologically the content of the piece, rather than offering a linguistic analysis.

Comments displayed a tendency to unsupported assertion regarding semantic meaning of the interview and some comments showed misreading. An initial close reading of the transcription may have avoided this latter issue.

Overall, the candidate could have improved the answer by identifying specific linguistic elements using technical terminology and making an exploration of language, structure and purpose, rather than only paraphrasing the transcription.

Common mistakes candidates made in this question

Candidates often tried to assess the socio-economic status of the interlocutors by attempting to analyse accent which was not presented by the transcription. In doing so, the response became irrelevant to the question. Candidates also attempted to criticise the quality of English used by the interlocutors. It was not part of the question to assess or offer assertion on the interlocutors' intellectual status.

Candidates were generally keen to demonstrate their knowledge of genderlect. However, discussion on language and gender is only one aspect of spoken language and candidates should have taken care not to allow it to dominate the response.

Weaker candidates who referred to language theorists commonly did not give a satisfactory explanation of the theory and why it was appropriate for it to be applied to elements of the transcription. Candidates should have been aware that it is not sufficient merely to mention a theorist's name.

Candidates needed to be aware of the conventions of conversation transcription. Some candidates criticised the interlocutors for not using punctuation in their utterances: according to transcription convention, punctuation is not used.

Weaker candidates lost control of their own written language at times. They also offered a generalised, rather than analytical, response using standard English terms. Candidates should have used technical linguistic terminology to describe the linguistic elements and to explore the effects and qualities conveyed by language, structure, purpose and context.

Example candidate response – high Examiner comments This afficle takes on anec reispect h IU Om.A esen Oh 1 The introduction is articulate and succinct. 15 TI. has , 'q m no man riving diag romo mas 2 The candidate demonstrates 2 a understanding of the argument set up by the passage, provides alticle evidence from the text hot dar appropriately, and develops the al response by applying wider knowledge of the current global 1171 situation regarding language and 1º 60 a power. Ik na 401 1) C in ark 4 an nin 20 3 NIA 3 The candidate explores the linguistic issue by selecting appropriately from the context u provided. 41

Example candidate response – high, continued Examiner comments hat as elitist is atily was f alc 71 10 Seon Dila DA. brospert ar 700 nia am 4 The candidate explains 4 language and elitism by applying examples from wider personal 11+ experience. CN 40 ali 2è that S LOOK 00 0 fu chang andaa Wao MONA SOM skill al states ticlo 4 m 0 to ton 5 The candidate develops the terpik response through language and 2ego/ power to education, mirroring the 1181 6 n passage provided and making 0 -PL appropriate reference. 6 The candidate demonstrates AC 00 knowledge of the stages of 0 development of a language. on which company_ a

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
Leaching Cenglish It is evident that Conglish is still very much adesired langhage and me questions whether Mandan'n would even have a Chance against this well-established language. The is reminded af the almost scary way in which Conglish is taught in China itself. Thowards af students are led in highly enthusiastic chants screaning things like "Perfect! Perfect! I want to Speak perfect English I want to Improve my life!" The underi- able link to between Conglish and prospenty is highlighted here	7 The candidate demonstrates evidence of wider experience of learning English.
as students and taught that Cenglish means a belter fature. Clet there is a danger in the oner- derification of Conglish & The article necognises this in the humoraus anecdote about writing thench	8 The candidate recognises the counter-argument, making appropriate reference to the passage and carefully selecting emails, as well as in the conclusion that if we all try to speak eachother's languages, "in the end we'll all understand each other". I This view, I find, is a healthy one a view lacking the anger that affeen he sults from debates about	 evidence. 9 The candidate offers personal opinion on the linguistic issue.
nesults from debates about Which language is better. Rather this than the agressine stamping- out ac other languages that happened in the seventieen and eighteen hundreds at the height of Bitain's colonial period. The report recorded the enert of a small mauri boy (from A) en Gealand) been beaten and told rever to speak the the halfve bangrage (Te Reo Maori) at school because if he wanked to prosper, longlish was the only way fortunately, when New Sealand carted the hear - death of Te Reo Maorin their brought it back into echools and conmerce, herving to to the thriving language to is today the hear - death of the Reo Maorin their brought it back into echools and conmerce, herving to to the thriving language to is today the hear of the hear - death of the Reo Maorin their brought it back into echools and conmerce, herving to to the thriving language to is today the hear who have stragglod to master a foreign language". This, the and the statistic that "only 10" ge hafting complacing of the inster and the complacing of the master and the complacing of the head first language to see the head a second language" bring to ilght the complacing of the section peak a second language. The head to learn another language. the head to learn another language. to learn another language. the may "adorable" must be hought, talked a point and wat ched in learlish — so shy botter? I believe a that some attempt, if only "adorable" must be made to ward the kinguage af others. the he writes says in clim 34,	The candidate applies evidence of wider reading on the spread of English and language death. The candidate explores language complacency by making reference to the passage and selecting appropriate evidence.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments

Example candidate response - high, continued Examiner comments 4 dominar is ho Dis ð A he on his eghers is word true enso 12 The candidate offers personal Ð opinion. 14 TAD m Danc osid alla a a.a.a.s OM int Companias me Can SK 4 Q ent 7.5 d1 13 The candidate demonstrates .13 espike OIN hin company 0 8. understanding of English in origin cu 0 international business settings by exploring the passage and offering further examples from wider reading.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
products and fast becoming a competition for Samsung, they ad- usitise in Conglish becauseit is what sells To my mind, it is dubious whether a country which is currently choosing conglish oner their own language cisel, in the chature decide to suddenly change to Mandarin and expect the entime commercial and economic world to change with them. Of course, imany- argue that it will be a gradual change. Still, it is unlikely when " an inchedible 100,000 native Canglish speakers are corrently-	The candidate offers further personal opinion in returning to the original issue of the rise of Mandarin as a possible global language, making reference to the passage.
Finally, it is interesting that the writer looks at this topic from a "global business" point af view". In business, especially then dealing ho to international relations: and trade, communication = is almost more important than, accuracy or method. I am sure the writer's French colleague got the point af their emails despite the flaws and subsequently of feel that (where business especially is concerned) we should all fry to undertand eachother even if we are wrong, at least we can say we	The candidate continues to focus on the business context of the passage.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
Chave Fried- Conclusively, this affice highloghts the debate of over Conglish's future as a global language, bringing accross the point that Canglish will most likely survive as the global language af choice yet stating that this in howay hears it is a better language than others- just a more widely spoken one.	 The conclusion is a succinct precis of the main argument of the passage provided. Total mark awarded = 19 out of 25

How the candidate could have improved the answer

Where the candidate made reference to examples from wider experience or reading concerning the use of language in various countries, the writing demonstrated a loss of register. The answer could have been improved by maintaining an appropriate register and by not using the quotes, as these provided a tendency to generalised assertion. These sections of the response were rather prolonged and could have been further improved by the candidate writing in a more succinct style.

The candidate could have improved the answer by applying theory to the linguistic issue, such as those theories put forward by Kachru, Diamond or Crystal.

Example candidate response – middle	Examiner comments
ROVENH WORK Perhad Philipson Monsting vidion can poke communication universal Is also impunisation withing yet divine - elite, classing discopent of badions, los ISSDES LAWAUAUE DEATH bosic requirement e conomic cogricement be alumeroust good brings large population studying English reaman alumeroust - agality bosisment Cryptal, Chalipson be openion ce language is signed by many do be one of the most micacions populated by David Cryptal as a "prossic of visions" and see a mark of endultionary duelopment. So	1 The candidate prepares a short plan from which to focus the response.
2 Ingriges, English. The most populated country in the world, China, is reported de have an exponential increase in English literacy according the magazine article. The author informs that English language	2 The introduction offers generalised assertion.
will be come a requirement for the Chinese boors as "a bais skill needed for the entire workforce, to the some comptent Though Frafish tangage literary burg press An schubege of this would mean disto English literary will not only be post preserved to the elite community of giving them distinctions that can be divisive of the population and also a somet tenerone of between individuals. Several	3 The candidate now refers to the passage and interprets advantages of learning English.

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
canbries have sufficed this. In Indonesia a new generation, the de children share the posted to spect only generation, the de children share the posted to spect only commencested postacipally in English with scarce aptitude in Bahasa, but to take poide in the social status that 4 elevates them in not knowing their star mother tengue. The Boilde countries the little as the poide in the third as the point of the second of the point of the second of	The candidate offers examples from wider reading or wider personal experience.
Daved reports a production serviced a English speakers: "- in tele com, thereis a good chance affly opeak. English For instance, the Fortz Finnish tele com conclem Mokia and Given brancess-goldware icompany SAP both use English as flaver official language Steles 19, the oblightion de English Language Studies will serve as a be of great convenience to prople the who seek jobs in the alovessid services. However, the contracting there Convenience to prople the who seek jobs in the alovessid services. However, the contracting there Convenience to prople the with technology, cogletted topics in period and any cogletted topics in period and any cogletted topics of communication to with the had agy, cogletted in English communication to will the period of there	5 The candidate selects appropriately from the text in order to examine comments gained from wider reading.
tongues to prise careers. Not everyone can become proficient in a new language at for work and as at this era, the inter of relignes can bring a notife large population of foreigners with the required shill. I take present to some operated that there groups alongate greatly to some the fore languages and still find it a hindrance to there is accord. It seems after unjusts to the industry there are communities to deviate from this identity, there are diversity in the opportunities greated the and the point of storing to this the nation provides. The point of storing to be appt in a second language is light-hustedly and	6 The candidate presents a counter-argument and then proceeds to refer to contemporary global political difficulties, demonstrating appreciation of the wider implications of the linguistic issue.

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
correct comically made by the suffer of the acticle as well, in a borief anecdoste over withing termosils in French there his "forgion catter for "an hove an effort my Parisian collesgue declared "adorable" ?? Despite the writer's a chrowledgement of this storgete, (s) he mantains a router word opinion and perspective in the nee of Chlobal English (Enlaborish, as Fitherists have set termed). The realist is left to his /her own opinion as the writers . "for better or worse = it seens that	The candidate appreciates the humour of the passage while appreciating the depth of importance of the linguistic issue.
Finglish may be the most essential largage for global brisness. As a poster, I can see a positive agent to this fact when it comes to the alvancement of women in the workfore, set a point made by the author: "women great better English this men. the author: "women agent better English this men. the first tate of the English tangent angrage can drive "women the apportunity to break from oppressive systems and find more coreer oftens the with tories can bring equiliby." English as a global language can the shatter the barriers individuals across the world have, giving them the canne foundation of indeester ding and communication Net it all comes with a price. tant other languages will have to the with and communities will have to be hindered from economic submement. All need la be in consideration of a longuage in doly ation of	 The candidate offers personal opinion on the gender issue of English language learning. The candidate briefly comments on language death and language learning as an obligation.
	Total mark awarded = 12 out of 25

The response opened with an assertive statement and a comment from Crystal. These did not demonstrate direct focus on the question, so the introduction to the essay was not relevant. The candidate could have improved the answer by using an introduction which immediately addressed the question.

The candidate offered further assertion in the discussion on gender and English language learning. The answer could have been improved by positively exploring the ways in which English language learning by women can fulfil international business requirements, rather than generalising on misogyny, patriarchy or oppression.

The conclusion made only brief mention of language death and language learning by obligation. The answer could have been improved by a fuller and more developed exploration of these two linguistic issues.

Example candidate response – low	Examiner comments
English as a global language.
For english language, we can say that. it has brought many people across the globe together. Civing them the opportunity to learn about something	The condidate energy by giving
Atthough english is the most spoken languege of the world but there	The candidate opens by giving positive views on the issue of English as a global language.
are Some countries Some ethen icity that donot speak english. But that being said if is abo notable that for better elementic 2 growth, english	2 The issue of English as a global language and economic growth has language ?s an important factor. It ke mantioned for the oxteat, english languages is taking over the	been addressed.
english language is taking over the mandarin language of china. It is growing in dominance and now many People ave Preferring english over the	3 The candidate discusses part of the first paragraph of the context
These are some Pssues that arise while OPKing to change language.	provided.
forst of all a new study torre tog tof Showed that of is it's says that it is not that hard for ev cilizens to learn / speak a second langer as compared to american Non english speakers have to contact	4 There is evidence of some misreading of the context provided.
then to understeind and verpend

Example candidate response – low, continued	Examiner comments
without any problems. This can take up a lot of time which can be used to do some thing else. 5 Secondly the use of english language Should be wide or big enough so	5 Loss of focus on the question.
that Puler Communication within an Organization who have affices in different countries face no problem while conveying emportant metsaufes because it happens Some to Some himes that a message is wrongly interpreted by a non-english speaker; 6	6 The candidate attempts to explain difficulties faced in international business
Thesdy, another maren problem that anne up en the study was that Protexnational sectors of an organization or a country use english language but the local sectors dan't. This but the local sectors dan't.	communication.
Mangless of Shop keepens while travelling Many businesses & countries of non. english Origin have made english their official language and it is used in offices but the low test here staff or local people are not speaking english, thus creating Proviem for the english speakers that interact with them. T	7 The candidate offers a paraphrase of the penultimate paragraph of the context provided.
defferent cultures en a velighen oppose the use of english, and Punish these who even try. for example when to english in 12005, the somen
Catholic opposed it. They burned the People who stexted worshipping in english. 3	8 Attempts to demonstrate evidence of wider knowledge although focus is not maintained on the question or the context provided.
	Total mark awarded = 5 out of 25

At times, the candidate lost the focus of the question in an attempt to demonstrate evidence of wider reading. This resulted in the latter part of the response becoming irrelevant. The answer could have been improved, therefore, by maintaining focus throughout.

Parts of the response merely paraphrased sections of the passage. The candidate could have improved the answer by, instead of paraphrasing, selecting an idea from the passage, inserting a short quote to evidence the argument, and then providing an explanation and development of the idea by applying knowledge from wider reading.

There was some evidence of misreading the context. Had this not occurred, and the candidate had used a linguistic stance, a discussion regarding the language complacency of native English speakers would have attracted further marks.

Common mistakes candidates made in this question

A common mistake which candidates made in Question 2 was to take inadequate account of the focus of the passage provided, and instead write about other issues concerning English as a global language not covered by the context. The passage, or passages, always have a direct focus – for example, language learning to facilitate international business – and candidates should have taken notice that the question asks for reference to specific details from the passage.

On the other hand, some weaker candidates chose simply to rewrite the content of the passage provided into their own words, with the response resulting in a chronological paraphrase. This method did not demonstrate a candidate's own ideas, nor any knowledge gained from wider study or experience, which is what was required in this question.

Commonly, weaker candidates chose to write a lengthy historical account of the growth of English as a global language, leaving themselves short of time to explore fully the linguistic issue presented.

Example candidate response – high	Examiner comments
PLAN Int Father & Daughter - pomietic - Role playing Int There and phase gring into talyaphia - Contrib Pha THERE - Impressive LKS (Stragily with proposes (Alterian) Stragily on a strangly to pot use Pry/Smt in asservative regotive paratagoutically serve market to potent at the leader there CDS Frandburg her with two-port exchanges receiper in the box - recenting. NV N theorem	The candidate has provided a well-organised plan.

Example candidate response – high, continued

Id 2 the given transcript is a dialogue between Rebecca (1 year and 10 months) and her sather. It can 10 months) and her sather. It can be accurred that the exchange if taking place in a domestic environment and that the child is familian with their environment and is therefore taking store in a domestic environment and that the child is samiliar with their environment and is therefore relayed. Rebecca and her sother are in a roleplay game in which Reperca is a shoppeleper and her father is a customer. 3 According to father is a customer. 3 According to Aitchison's table of developmental itages, being aged 22 months puty seen being aged 22 months puty shew Rebucca in the late stages of Rebecca in the late stages of what is pronn as the "Two-wood phace" 4 we can assume that the phace." 4 we can assume that the recording of the conversation is covert the stades of the state of the state ns no evidence of Obcervers Frinadox within the transcripts suggests othermil. In general Rebeccas phonological development is rather more advanced grow where theorists such us Aldridge believe most children her age though by 5 She has
In general Rebección phonological development is rather more advanced from where theoristy such us Aldridge believe most children her age thould be, 5 she has acquired max a wide range of such as vowels and voiced provises the pormer latter demonstrated by her acquired was a wide range of such as vowels and voiced plosing (the posses latter demonstrated by per- common witepance of the word "pear") but Aldridge's table of Founds places the privative the at a much later stage of child's development, but Aldridger table of sounds places the pricative the at a much later stage of child's development, as late as 7-years-old. However, Rebecca is able to a use the und Rebecca is after to use the word

Examiner comments

2 This is, in fact, a response to Question 3 and not Question 2.

3 The candidate correctly identifies the purpose and context of the discourse.

 The candidate correctly identifies Rebecca's stage of language acquisition and uses an appropriate theoretical model to support the point.

• The candidate is assertive and is able to apply theory to a phonological argument which is then developed by an explanation of child language acquisition theory and examples from the transcript.

xample candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
"THERE" without any wident pault, proving that this aspect of her development may be justher ahead than most children's Most of Rebecca's texts pall into three catagories. Firstly is general round such as "box", "peus", "shop" and ce porth, clear indicating hea confidence in lubelling certain objects with coundy and wordy. Secondly, actions like " come (.) come " to indicate see for her pather to pollow her. And thirdly, social words such as "hello", "alright", "yes" and "ro" to reinforces her own imagined " role up a chopkeeper as well as practicing her diveloping pragmatic anarchess. However, her lexical	 While identifying linguistic features, the candidate refers confidently to language structures with technical terminology. Here, the candidate analyses linguistic features while referring back to the context and purpose.
acquistion is still gainly limited as che does not seem to use pronomy to give clearer meaning to ber utiliennes. B According to theorist Nelson, this pattern of speech is common in children of Reberco's age and stage of development. When discussing before Reberco's	8 The candidate discusses how the child could give clearer meaning and briefly introduces a further theorist to support the poin syntax, it is important to acknowledge the part that within the "Two-word stage" children's syntax 9 is only just beginning as they experiment with putting two words together in one phrasel. Rebecca succeeds in doing to multiple times saying "in box" (preposition +	9 The candidate confidently discusses syntax with appropriate examples being labelled correctly

Example candidate response – high, continued

However, her lack of Opronoun acquisition presents per with some structural digginulties Instead of stateing "in the box I think" presents per with some structural diggeneties Instead of stateing "in the pox I think" she says "in pox () think", demonstrating her lack of either considence or her lack of either conjidence or understanding in using both articles chick as the and on the stronger
"I" rather covering up her error with a pauce (.).
"I" rather covering up her error with a parce (.). Berbo & Brown (1960) famoudy found that "understanding exceeds (1) found that "understanding exceeds 1 production when it comes down to children acquiring language. Although children acquiring language. Although their research chons this in terms of phonological development, it can also be found in separatics. Reteccon of phondogical development, it can _ when be sound in semantics. Rebewar, with her limited lifty in only understand and use section words in order to guin a desired responses, for example objecting the words "pretend shop" to express what the for example objecting the words pretend they to express what the wants, clearly understanding that the sull phrase is "pretend this is the sull phrase is "pretend this is the shop but saying only the key words shop but saying only the bey words she fully understands. Although she does now show some pragmatic does now show some pragmatia awareness through her salutation at the beginning of the transcript through the inaginative alephay, the also demonstrates his stuggle to four on iertain acpects of her imaginary situlion demonstrates her stuggle to four on certain acpects of her imaginary sitelian tike the positioning of her chop as the "bornes" moves across the room" and the Warners moves across the room and

Examiner comments

The response is articulate and fluent and offers insight into how the child's syntax acquisition falls into an early stage.

The candidate now begins to develop the response from initial discussion on phonological, lexical and syntactical acquisition through to semantics, applying new theoretical explanation.

There is further linguistic exploration here as the candidate discusses pragmatics within the imaginative role play.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
"dimby over the tuble" The father, as Pepecca's caregines is having do a lot 3 of what panela Fishman referred to as "interactional shitwork" by acking questions nithin his role as the custover. "is there any orange juice?". This is term gives Rebecca new imaginative cituations to work with teaches her to	The candidate provides explanation and exploration of the father's role as linguistic caregiver by briefly discussing theory and providing appropriate examples from the text.
interacte at the end of questions to give them a distinct cound "7" as well as familiences her with two-part evchanges "please unded i have some water" 1 "yes", espectively peeping the asas interaction yoing. I Furthermore, the father also records certain information given by his daughter. For example, when Rebeccan says in box", the father responds with "in the box", including the article in the hope of increasing her lexical understanding. Spinner was a behaviourist	The candidate correctly identifies the father as recasting rather than correcting his daughter's utterance.
who believed that language was learnt through asconition, imitation and reingertement. However, linguist Noam chomoky challenged Spinners belieg, believing that children all over the TS world have an insite (canguage Acquirition Durice ibs (LAD) within the brain that naturally acquires grammar when exposed to a language. However, Chomsky simply juils to upprovelege	The candidate explains the contrast in the two linguistic theories discussed.

Example candidate response – high, continued	Examiner comments
that initial interaction in escential for a child to be able to use a language effectively in social citation. Brack and sacks research on the child prener as "leag Jin" show that children do indeed more than just mere exposure to language in order to be able to use it encressfully. As we see in the transife petaren Reberca and pathen, interaction such as the veloplay gave they are pluying on pundimental in helping a child develop ways to be creative through language and understand more social conventions in contents the period conventions in contents the provident of helping a child develop way to be creative through any use and understand more social conventions in conventions. Therefore, Spiness ideologies that a meturing social environment is the bey to a child surversing or produced in the playing any conjusted in the playing of the period conventions in converting, language and environment is the bey to a child surversing of the environg social in converting on supported in Rebeccies of this escary to consider the theories purther given the wide reading and the limited toranscript with bot pather and we are a source with bot pather with Rebecust exchange with bot pather and we are a source with bot pather and we are a convertions.	The response contains evidence of a good deal of wider reading and confidently applies this to the context provided. Total mark awarded = 22 out of 25

The penultimate paragraph was somewhat lengthy. The candidate could have improved the response by writing more succinctly, or by using fewer examples (such as the one provided regarding Deaf Jim) to illustrate the point made.

The candidate identified phoneme /p/ as a voiced plosive, rather than an unvoiced plosive. To improve the answer, the candidate should have been accurate in labelling phonological ingredients.

Example candidate response – middle	Examiner comments
The conversation carried att between Rebecca and her father takes place in a trawn environment Of a room, It is in which an imaginary shopis Orecited. It is therefore, taken Aace in a non- threatening environment where the development and experimentation of Rebecca's Language can thatrist. The conversation commences with "hello" an indication of Rebecca's cognitove ability on how to start a conversation, followed by her dad's response, effectively starting the conversation, and Shopping Scene. It is therefore evident of	The response opens with a confident assertion regarding the context.
Rebecca's capability of language, 2 Rebecca's intuition is hurder paraged by her response to her father initiating wanting to buy something from her shop. Her response : "right.	2 The candidate continues to offer assertion.
Peas. Peas." indicates her natural ability to respond to a Austatement, exidence of .3 chamsky's nativism theory, Rebecca has anatural ability of a Language acquisition device, to commence in the conversation. A second example of chansey's theory is Porrayed; "there-shop. Picten d natural shop " unen she shows her, ability to formulate a statement with basic grammatical features:	3 The candidate selects appropriately from the transcript in order to demonstrate knowledge of child language acquisition theory, on which some brief comments are provided.
the father Prompts his daughters thinking process and the flow of conversational by wing Process questions it through inbination: "come where " to fromft Rebecca in verbally responding with the obvious answer. This feature actively teaches Rebecca's understanding of language incinforcing the

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
Structure of Sentences in her head. Further reinforcement is used by her father; "but, yes. 1'11 have some" to continue the direction of Conversation, Posibively encouraging a response from Rebecca. The use of quebiens and reinforcement is an example of spinners behaviourism, as in order for the conversation to commence and flaw logically, questions and	• The candidate attempts to explore language and structure with comment on the father's role in the interaction.
The lexis of a onlid Rebecca's age is simple: "Snop", and the grammar is basic; " dont know", and this enables one word, two word and the	5 There is some development as the candidate continues to explore the father's utterances with a brief comment on the work of Skinner.
telegraphic Stages of Speech to be expored. Whilst Rebecca uses one or two words ; "there " and "in box" it is evident she has reached the telegraphic stages of Speech : "there. shop . Pretend Shop " by 6 using three to fair words in response to her father. The telegraphic Stage enables her to express commands to her father, enabling himto inderstand and fore the conversation in the ' oliviection she imagines. "In box" is a command	6 The candidate correctly identifies the stage of language acquisition which the child has reached, and selects appropriate evidence from the transcript.
representing Halliday's illustrative command as by stating this she means to inform herfather that it is in the box. "Come, come come", using three words, she is able to use a relagitory command (Halliday) to order her father to go to the Shap. 7 Rebeard endenty Portrays her ability to logically demond and hobily her father through basic grammer and	7 The candidate applies language acquisition appropriately, offering a more developed explanation.

Example candidate response – middle, continued	Examiner comments
Elegraphic Senance structure. This is a reflection of her Cognisance and ability to Pouray ner Cognitive understanding of her Pather's Prompts and questions. "Peas Acas Reas" Str Polyaysher Enavedge that you can buy Peas at a shop. Although her Cognisance is not yet. etc. 92 eternally relatable is not yet. "I this is a Aunny old shop", She effortlessly earduded with evidence of her memory ; Peas .um.um", ternembering ungt her father wan ted. Throughat the conversation her father had from Pred the idea of Reas when she went off track; "rice". and it is evident it was successful in terninding her. "Rind find Reas" is evidence to Rebecca's ability to raund off a conversation, and her cognisance tawards the Rurpose of the conversation (Riaget's cognitive theory). 3 Rebecca Patrays her acquired language acquisition through scinners benaviarism theory as her father uses information Rechniques and teinforement to Prampt we thought Pocess and development of language. Refee the anversation is effectively carried aut through her actively to form basic grammatical Jentences, evident to chamsky's nativism theory. Along with her cognisance to the tepic of conversation and basic (Riegraphic Bentences , the Pair are able to compart a logical and descriptive (centery of a shop. 3)	 The candidate has attempted to apply Piaget's theory of cognitive development with a very brief mention. The conclusion is a concise rewording of the body of the essay.
	Total mark awarded = 12 out of 25

The candidate tended to make assertions. The answer could have been improved by providing developed, rather than generalised, comments on the stage of language acquisition of the child in the second paragraph.

The response demonstrated some wider reading of child language acquisition theories. However, these were not always explained, therefore the candidate could have improved the answer by writing in a more precise manner, with appropriate selections from the transcription as evidence. This was particularly relevant in the section regarding Piaget, whose name was only briefly mentioned.

The candidate commented on the purpose of the father's questioning technique to an extent. To improve the answer, the candidate could have developed an argument concerning caretaker speech and the way Rebecca reacts in her turn-taking.

Overall, the answer could have been improved by using more linguistic terminology th,

Example candidate response – low	Examiner comments
The languest a osed in the conversition between rebecca age 1gr to months & her feither is rather very informal and Casual. This can be proven by the sentences said by rebeccen that are share and without any proper ghruching for example. "In box (.) think. They are using language that befits them shart and child like; the one of 1gr to months wood to esse use. Alot of relierence B given by both of them to tubed they're previously said as well as gestures used by rittle rebecco. If Can be seen that lots of short and they're used by iftele	1 The candidate attempts to spot features of the discourse and provide a basic comment which does not take a linguistic stance.
Repersion in her Seidentes almost like Stopping and 2 theinering of what to say next. The this Conversation the emphasis is given on preas. Her	2 The candidate spots further features using the correct terminology, with basic comment.
failler wante to buy leas tran repecces innegeney Shop.	3 The response demonstrates some understanding of the context provided.
	Total mark awarded = 2 out of 25

Often, a response is brief when a candidate has insufficient time left to complete the essay. However, even in short responses it is possible to achieve some marks. In this case, although the response was brief, the candidate could have improved the essay by using linguistic terminology instead of generalised standard English.

Some language features were spotted and if the candidate had provided more than a basic comment regarding these, more marks would have been awarded. The stage of language acquisition in the child was not identified, nor was there any reference to language theory. The candidate selected some quotes from the transcription but comments lacked precision and ideas were undeveloped.

Overall, the candidate appeared to have understood the context. A fuller exploration of language acquisition through imaginary play would have improved the response.

Common mistakes candidates made in this question

In Question 3, a mistake commonly made was to wrongly identify the stage of language acquisition in the child. There was evidence in the transcription of holophrastic and telegraphic speech and Piaget's preoperational stage. Often candidates described the child's utterances as 'holographic' and 'telephrastic' in error. Candidates should be aware of the importance of using linguistic terminology fluently and correctly.

In selecting theories to apply to their analyses, some candidates chose to write about the work of Grice, Tannen or Lakoff. It is important to retain focus on child language acquisition in Question 3, which has specific demands that are quite different from those in Question 1. Therefore mention of theorists specialising in gender or politeness, for example, were inappropriate.

Many candidates referred to the child's early stage grammar and syntax examples as 'mistakes'. More accurately, these examples could be termed 'virtuous errors' with an opportunity to open a discussion on the work of Chomsky.

Weaker candidates stated that the adult's function was purely to teach the child. This was a missed opportunity to explore how language is acquired through play, where discussion on the Hallidayan imaginative, representational and regulatory functions would have been stronger.

Cambridge International Examinations 1 Hills Road, Cambridge, CB1 2EU, United Kingdom t: +44 1223 553554 f: +44 1223 553558 e: info@cie.org.uk www.cie.org.uk

© Cambridge International Examinations 2017 Version 0.1

